

Texas Society of Allied Health Professions Student Award Application

The Texas Society of Allied Health Professions (TSAHP) awards up to four (4) student awards of $500 each at its fall conference annually. The student awards will be presented to allied health students who have demonstrated scholastic achievement and a commitment to service in their profession and community. The student awards will be offered to students of TSAHP academic institutional members. There is no limit to the number of applicants an institution may submit for each category.

To be eligible for the student award, students must have successfully completed 24 hours or 50% of their professional program (whichever is greater) and must have at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA on a 4.0 system. Students must be enrolled on a full- or part-time basis at a college or university that is an institutional member of the Texas Society of Allied Health Professions. Students must also be enrolled in the fall semester in which the award is presented. The program representative will submit a discussion of the student's potential as part of the student award application. Applicants may submit up to two additional letters of recommendations. The application must be sent through the Dean, Chair, or Department Head of a program affiliated with a TSAHP institutional member. Student awards will be given in the following categories:

- Community College Student
- Undergraduate Student
- Graduate Student
- Unrestricted (student may fall in any category)

Selection Criteria:

- GPA (in major)
- Level and significance of the civic activities
- Level and significance of the school/professional activities including offices held, as well as presentations and publications
- Student's potential for future achievement
- Recommendation of Department Chair/Dean
- Enrolled in fall semester in which award is presented

Completed applications must be sent by email or regular mail. If using mail service, the application must be postmarked by May 31, 2018:
