

TSAHP Executive Director's Report

Thursday, September 21, 2023

TSAHP is a great organization for health profession faculty to network and exchange ideas on mutual interests in education and clinical practice. Our annual conference is an excellent setting for faculty to become familiar with other professionals in the state and present their scholarly work. We also offer student awards (scholarships), a student poster competition, research grant opportunities, and an elite student leadership program for students from TSAHP member institutions. In addition to individual memberships ($35/annually), the following institutional/association memberships are available:

Institution Membership and One (1) Representative = $300
